With just one week to go before the opening performance of Seussical, the excitement among the students is palpable! They've been working tirelessly, rehearsing and fine-tuning every number to bring Dr. Seuss's whimsical world to life. From the energetic "Oh, the Thinks You Can Think" to the heartwarming "Alone in the Universe," the cast has been reviewing their choreography, vocal harmonies, and character development to make every moment unforgettable.

The students have poured their creativity and passion into each scene, and they're thrilled to showcase all they've accomplished. As the final rehearsals approach, the anticipation builds, and they can't wait to share their hard work and vibrant performances with the audience!
