

MIDDLE SCHOOL BEACH DAY – A DAY TO REMEMBER

After being drafted into their Tribes, our middle school students carried their excitement and team spirit to Zuma Beach for a day filled with sunshine, friendship, and faith. The beach became the perfect backdrop for students to connect not only with one another but also with God, making it more than just a fun trip, it was a meaningful experience.

The day began with worship on the sand, where students lifted their voices together in praise. With the sound of waves crashing behind them and the warmth of the sun overhead, worship felt both powerful and refreshing. It was a reminder that God is present not just in church or chapel, but everywhere, even at the beach.

Following worship, students jumped into a variety of Tribe competitions that brought out lots of cheering, laughter, and teamwork. From relay-style activities to creative challenges, everyone had a chance to shine while supporting their Tribe. The games weren't just about winning, but about learning to encourage one another, celebrate effort, and strengthen community.

As the day wrapped up, students spread out across the sand to enjoy time with friends, soak up the sun, and reflect on all they had shared. The beach day was more than just a fun outing, it was a chance to build lasting memories, grow in unity, and experience the joy of walking in faith together. Truly, it was a day our middle school won't soon forget.
